

Academic & READING & WRITING

For Senior High School
Revised Edition

Jessie S. Barrot, Ph.D.

Academic & READING & WRITING

For Senior High School
Revised Edition

Jessie S. Barrot, Ph.D.

C & E Publishing, Inc.
2020

Table of Contents

Preface	vii
---------------	-----

Unit I Fundamentals of Thinking and Reading

1 Critical Thinking	2
2 Fundamental Reading Skills.....	17
3 Selecting and Organizing Information	41
4 Patterns of Development	73
5 Critical Reading Skills	97

Unit II Fundamentals of Writing

6 Principles of Effective Writing	118
7 The Writing Process.....	139
8 Thesis Statement, Topic Sentence, and Supporting Details	157
9 Academic Writing and Professional Writing.....	175

Unit III Academic Writing in the Discipline

10 Book Review or Article Critique	196
11 Literature Review	215
12 Research Report	251
13 Project Proposal	267
14 Position Paper	305

Unit IV Writing Professional Correspondences

15	Letters, Memos, and Electronic Mails	322
16	Application Letter for College Admission.....	345
17	Application Letter for Employment.....	357
18	Resumé	371

Glossary	397
----------------	-----

References	400
------------------	-----

Index	403
-------------	-----

Index

A

academic writing, 178–182 components, 178–179

accident

See logical fallacy

affirming the consequent

See logical fallacy

analyzing

See Bloom's Taxonomy

anonymous authority

See logical fallacy

appeal to authority

See logical fallacy

appeal to consequences

See logical fallacy

appeal to force

See logical fallacy

appeal to ignorance

See logical fallacy

appeal to pity

See logical fallacy

applying

See Bloom's Taxonomy

argumentative claims, 104–105

claim of fact, 104

claim of policy, 105

claim of value, 104–105

article critique, 198–200

structure, 198–199

attacking the person

See logical fallacy

B

bandwagon

See logical fallacy

Bloom's Taxonomy of the Cognitive Domain, 6–9

analyzing, 8

applying, 7

creating, 8

evaluating, 8

remembering, 7

understanding, 7

book review, 198–200

structure, 198–200

brainstorming, 43

idea list, 43–44

idea map, 44

business letter, 325–327

formats, 327

parts, 325–326

C

cause-effect

See patterns of development

chronology

See patterns of development

claim of fact

See argumentative claims

claim of policy

See argumentative claims

claim of value

See argumentative claims

classification

See patterns of development

clustering, 143–144

coherence

See properties of a well-written text

cohesion

See properties of a well-written text

college admission application letter, 347–350

parts, 347–348

comparison-contrast

See patterns of development

complex cause

See logical fallacy

complex question

See logical fallacy

creating

See Bloom's Taxonomy

critical reading, 33, 99–101

critical thinking, 4–5

cycle

See graphic organizers

D

definition

See patterns of development

denying the antecedent

See logical fallacy

description

See patterns of development

division

See patterns of development

drafting, 147–148

E

editing, 150–151

electronic mail, 333–334

essay, 121–123

parts, 122–123

evaluating

See Bloom's Taxonomy

exemplification

See patterns of development

F

false analogy

See logical fallacy

false dilemma

See logical fallacy

feedback, 148–149

fishbone map

See graphic organizers

freewriting, 143

G

graphic organizers, 46–57

cycle, 56

fishbone map, 55

network tree, 47

persuasion map, 57

plot diagram, 52–53

problem-solution map, 49

series of events chain, 54

spider map, 48

timeline, 51

Venn diagram, 46

H

hasty generalization

See logical fallacy

higher-order thinking skills, 8–9

hypertext, 102–103

I

idea list

See brainstorming

idea map

See brainstorming

inconsistency

See logical fallacy

inferential reading, 32

intertext, 102

irrelevant conclusion

See logical fallacy

J
job application letter, 360-363
parts, 360-361

L
language use
See properties of a well-written text

listing
See patterns of development

literal reading, 28-30
paraphrasing, 29-30
summarizing, 28-29

literature review, 218-220
structure, 218-219

logical fallacy, 106-108
accident, 108
affirming the consequent, 108
anonymous authority, 107
appeal to authority, 107
appeal to consequences, 107
appeal to force, 107
appeal to ignorance, 106
appeal to pity, 107
attacking the person, 107
bandwagon, 107
complex cause, 108
complex question, 107
denying the antecedent, 108
false analogy, 107
false dilemma, 106
hasty generalization, 107
inconsistency, 108
irrelevant conclusion, 108
post hoc, 108
slippery slope, 106
straw man, 108
wrong direction, 108

M
main idea
See rapid reading
mechanics
See properties of a well-written text memorandum, 328-332

parts, 328-329
types, 330-332
modeling, 141

N
network tree
See graphic organizers

O
outline, 59-60, 143-144
types, 60
organization
See properties of a well-written text

P paragraph, 121
paraphrasing
See literal reading
patterns of development, 75-81
cause-effect, 82-83
chronology, 78
classification, 81
comparison-contrast, 80
definition, 76
description, 77
division, 81
exemplification, 76
listing, 79
persuasion, 84-85
problem-solution, 83
procedure, 78
persuasion
See patterns of development
persuasion map
See graphic organizers
plot diagram
See graphic organizers
position paper, 307-308
structure, 307
post hoc
See logical fallacy
previewing, 26
problem-solution
See patterns of development

problem-solution map
 See graphic organizers
procedure
 See patterns of development professional writing, 178-179, 183-184
 components, 178-179
project proposal, 270-273
 parts, 271-272
 types, 270-271
proofreading, 150
properties of a well-written text, 125-130

 coherence, 126
 cohesion, 126
 language use, 127-128
 mechanics, 130
 organization, 127
 unity, 125
publishing, 152

R

rapid reading, 24
 locating the main idea, 25
 scanning, 25-26
 skimming, 24-25
reading process, 23
remembering
 See Bloom's Taxonomy
research report, 254-258
 parts, 254-256
resume, 373-384
 components, 373-375
 types, 375-382
revising, 149

S

scanning
 See rapid reading

series of events chain
 See graphic organizers
skimming
 See rapid reading
slippery slope
 See logical fallacy
spider map
 See graphic organizers
straw man
 See logical fallacy
summarizing
 See literal reading
supporting details, 167 survey instrument, 257

T

thesis statement, 159-162
timeline
 See graphic organizers
topic sentence, 164-165

U

understanding
 See Bloom's Taxonomy
unity
 See properties of a well-written text

V

Venn diagram
 See graphic organizers

W

writing process, 142-152
wrong direction
 See logical fallacy

