Abstract

The objective of this study was to assess the OJT performance of the BSCSM practicum students of John B. Lacson Foundation Maritime University – Molo Inc. This study also sought to further deepen the evaluation results of the OJT by conducting interviews among the authorized employees of the external linkages. Through the interview along with hard copy of their performance results, the researchers then analyzed and described the data. The results showed that the performances of the practicum students were pleasing, commendable and selectively outstanding. The respective areas of evaluation such as quality and quantity of work, general work attitude, attendance and personality were utilized by the researchers to come up with an organized analysis of the OJT performance. Although there was a minority of students who performed below than average, altogether the trainees were given compliments by the external linkages.
