

WHO WILL WIN THE GLOBAL VACCINE RACE?

BY ALICE PARK

9 771064 030005 23

- 4 | From the Editor
- 5 | Conversation
- 6 | For the Record

The Brief

News from the U.S. and around the world

7 | Unpaid bills could trigger widespread power cuts

11 | California's fire season sets a record

12 | TIME with ... author and poet Claudia Rankine

14 | Colleges reopen but without the social bustle

18 | Wuhan, desperate to banish bad memories, attempts normality

The View

Ideas, opinion, innovations

19 | David French on division and unity in America

21 | Ian Bremmer on a world without Shinzo Abe leading Japan

22 | Sean Gregory on a new paradigm for sports activism

Features

The COVID Collapse
How the U.S. went from first to worst
By Alex Fitzpatrick and Elijah Wolfson 24

Plus: The race for a vaccine
By Alice Park 30

Permanent Record
A protest arrest can alter a life
By Melissa Chan 38

Reparations Paid
Is Florida's compensation for the Rosewood massacre a model for the nation?
By Victor Luckerson 44

Alternate Reality
Conspiracy theories are changing the fabric of U.S. democracy
By Charlotte Alter 56

Keeping It Down
Trump's false claims about voting are having an effect
By Vera Bergengruen and Lissandra Villa 60

Power Player
As Energy Secretary, Rick Perry helped friends and donors
By Simon Shuster and Ilya Marritz 66

Freedom of Expression
Why I let my child create their own gender identity
By Kyl Myers 74

In Vogue
Editor Edward Enninful is the face of inclusive fashion
By Diana Evans 78

Time Off

What to watch, read, see and do

83 | Women filmmakers nail the horror of 2020

86 | Movies: Antebellum is Janelle Monáe's nightmare; Cuties captures an impatient awakening

88 | Television: Back to Italy in We Are Who We Are; a comic Woke; a case that never gets old in A Wilderness of Error

90 | Books: Sigrid Nunez's new novel, September fiction and Quick Talk with Jane Fonda

92 | 10 Questions for Netflix co-CEO Reed Hastings

The Ismael siblings in Troy, Mich., lost both parents to COVID-19 within weeks of each other

Photograph by Salwan Georges—The Washington Post/Getty Images

ON THE COVER:
Illustration by Peter Greenwood for TIME